

Ragged School Museum

We took the train from Southend Station to West Ham then West Ham to Mile End. Subsequently, we became a bit lost in the park but then we finally found our destination. We walked in and met our tour guide Danni; she escorted us to the basement where we put our coats and bags.

Then we marched up the stairs to the top of the building to the Victorian kitchen and met Colin. He gave us a talk about the kitchen and a few people got to come up and use what they used to use. Moments later Danni came and told us that we were going to go back to 1885.

We arrived at the classroom and met Miss Poole, she was a bit frightening and scared us. She said no talking and fidgeting. I wouldn't have liked her being my teacher every day. We got to write on slates which were fun and then we were led down to the basement and we had our lunch. Straight after lunch half of us went to the gift shop and the other half had a look around, then we swapped. I enjoyed myself; it was one of the best trips.
